[LOS ANGELES] John Bresnahan of politico.com reported yesterday that "CBS' 60 Minutes went after Speaker John Boehner (R-Ohio) [and] House Minority Leader Nancy Pelosi (D-Calif.), in a Sunday story covering allegations of insider trading and "soft corruption" by powerful members of Congress."

Bresnahan wrote, "60 minutes based its report on research by Peter Schweizer, a fellow at the conservative Hoover Institution. Schweizer said he and his team of eight student researchers found "forms of honest graft" by lawmakers."

"So it's not illegal, but I think it's highly unethical, I think it's highly offensive, and wrong," Schweizer told 60 Minutes of what he discovered," Mr. Bresnahan finished.

What did Speaker Boehner and Minority Leader Pelosi do?

"Boehner bought health-care stocks in 2009 shortly before the "public option" - universal health care - was dropped from the Democratic health care bill," concluded politico.

Meanwhile C Newsmax reported that, "Pelosi bought stock in initial public offerings (IPOs) that earned hefty returns while she had access to insider information that would have been illegal for an average citizen to trade with - even though it's perfectly legal for elected officials."
