Occuppy Los Angeles News

[Los Angeles] Banks won't say whether the sting of yesterday's massive coordinated closure of personal accounts by Occupy Wall Street protesters nationwide will affect their bottom line and banking policies. One million people closed accounts according to ABC. This OLA News pictorial issue is dedicated to the people in and around Occupy LA that helped make this another win for the Occupy Wall Street movement. Viva OLA!

Chancellor Robert Reich, UC Berkeley (right), visited OLA Saturday, and was dismayed that Congress has again failed to extend 99 weeks of unemployment benefits. Currently over 50% of the unemployed are receiving no benefits at all.
